That Seventies Feeling...the Late Modern

The exhibition showcases some of the Gallery's best works from the decade that saw the opening of AGWA's much longed for new Gallery.

The show demonstrates a hidden richness and complexity to how we think of the seventies, while also reflecting the building's own place in the story of modernism. Full of surprises and rarely seen works, That Seventies Feeling...the Late Modern examines a transformative decade for Western Australia, the Gallery and the world at large.
